

AUTISM FRIENDLY CINEMA SCREENINGS

@ JUNCTION, Goole

From March 2011, Junction will be introducing regular autism-friendly cinema screenings on the first Saturday of each month. The films, which will be specially-selected for their gentle storylines and suitable content, will be shown with low-level lighting and reduced sound-levels. The auditorium will be opened up 30 minutes before each showing to allow audiences time to familiarise themselves with the space before the start of the film. Visits to the venue before the screening can also be arranged, and there will be no advertisements or trailers shown. The screenings are aimed at both children and adults on the autistic spectrum, along with their carers and families, so it is fine for audiences to move around, make noise and take breaks during the film.

The first movie lined-up is ALPHA AND OMEGA (U), which will be shown at 11am on Saturday 5th March. Alpha and Omega follows the story of two young wolves who set out on a daring adventure, and fall in love along the way. Other screenings will follow on the first Saturday of every month.

All tickets are priced at £2.50 and are available from box office (01405 763652).

All children must be accompanied by an adult.
